SCOPE

Content Repurposing / Multichannel Content Creation / Content Transformation / Digital Marketing

DESCRIPTION

Develop an AI-powered content repurposing platform that transforms existing long-form or source content into multiple platform-specific formats. The system should accept content such as videos, podcasts, articles, documents, or transcripts and use AI to extract key information and generate suitable variations for different channels and audiences. It should preserve the core message while adapting the format, length, tone, and structure for each target platform.
